How store promotions and discount codes work at checkout

Easy savings Your budtender can apply an eligible promotion before you pay. The checkout total updates automatically.

How it works

1 Shop Choose your products.	2 Ask Mention a promotion or share your code.	3 Check PLNTRK verifies the offer and updates your total.	4 Save Complete payment with the discount shown.

What kinds of offers might be available?

- A percentage off eligible items or your order.
- A fixed dollar amount off.
- Deals for selected products or product categories.
- Promotions for first-time, returning, medical, or adult-use customers.
- Limited-time offers and discount-code promotions.

Why might an offer not apply?

Timing The promotion has not started or has already ended.	Minimum purchase The eligible items do not meet the required subtotal.	Products The offer only covers certain products or categories.
Customer eligibility The offer is reserved for a particular customer group.	Usage limit The promotion or customer limit has already been reached.	Code The code is missing or does not match the promotion.

Good to know

- Promotions vary by store and may change without notice.
- Only eligible merchandise counts toward a promotion.
- A promotion may have a maximum savings amount.
- Your receipt shows the applied discount and updated total.
- Current checkout supports one store promotion at a time; loyalty rewards may be handled separately.
- Ask a team member for current offer details and restrictions.

Have a code? Show it to your budtender before payment so it can be checked and applied to the order.
